2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners. The main objective of any education system is to provide quality education for all learners in order to empower them to recognize their true potential and thereby meaningfully contribute and participate in societal activities. Domain knowledge with insights into the learning process can help the teachers to create active classrooms. The teachers need to shift from teacher-centric classrooms to student-centric classrooms added with an appropriate assessment which is the essence of outcome-based education. Mentors identify the different learning levels on 5- a point scale by filling the questionnaire and accordingly customize their teaching strategies.

Slow Learners: Slow learners can be identified on the following performance aspects of the students:

1. Performance in the Intermediate examination and rank obtained in the qualifying examination.
2. Performance in the orientation and induction programs conducted in the first year.
3. Low educational attainments.
4. Unable to keep pace with the class in the course.
5. Difficulty coping with multiple tasks.
6. Very low attention span.
7. Poor English language skills.

Some measures that can be practiced and implemented by faculty to boost the morale of the slow learners are as stated below:

1. Appreciating and rewarding the students for every small step they take towards improvement.
2. Setting short assignments regularly.
3. Raising their confidence through peer learning.
4. Motivating through real-time examples.
5. Playway methods of learning

6. Using Visual, Logical/Mathematical aids.
7. Conducting tutorial classes
8. Conducting remedial classes.
9. Motivating them with practical and real-time application demonstrations to grab their interest to learn the concepts.

Advanced Learners: Advanced learners can be identified on the following performance aspects of the students:

1. Performance in Intermediate examination and rank obtained in the qualifying examination.
2. Performance in the orientation and induction programs conducted in the first year.
3. Students who are ahead in the learning curve.
4. Students who have better educational attainments.

Some special programmes implemented for further enhancement of academic performance and holistic development:

1. Providing self-learning resources.
2. Providing need-based facilities for real-time projects.
3. Providing coaching for competitive exams.
4. Encouraging them to organize technical events.
5. Giving assignments based on design and model making.
6. Pair them with the advanced learners in group activities.
7. Assigning the tasks like preparation of inspirational and famous personalities' biographical videos.
